The Google logo is displayed in its signature multi-colored font (red, yellow, blue, green) against a dark background. Each letter of the word "Google" contains a different iconic travel-related image in white. The 'G' features the Colosseum in Rome; the 'o' features the Eiffel Tower in Paris; the second 'o' features the Big Ben clock tower in London; the 'g' features the Taj Mahal in Agra; the 'l' features the Great Wall of China; and the 'e' features the Statue of Liberty in New York City.

The image shows a large, three-dimensional green logo mounted on a wall made of light-colored horizontal wooden planks. The logo consists of a thick, textured green material, possibly moss or artificial grass, forming the word "dogeza" in a bold, cursive font. The letter "d" is a large circle, "o" is a smaller circle, "g" is a vertical oval, "e" is a horizontal oval, and "z" is a diagonal line. The lighting is warm, coming from a single pendant light visible in the top right corner, which casts a soft glow on the wall and the logo.
